Fun Ideas, Sadly Made In China By Julia I first checked out one of these 52 series about 18 years ago and thought they were a neat idea that really worked in the card format. In this deck the cards are a very tight fit, but I have purchased a couple other decks and they fit ok. My biggest qualm with these cards is that they are made in China. I didn't realize that until I received as I'd assumed someone in the self-help arena would care about that. For that reason I will probably not purchase more decks unless they are second hand.5 of 7 people found the following review helpful. Fun and easy to implement ideasBy Berkeley MamaThese cards are full of fun and engaging activities to do with a toddler. My two-year-old loves to do the activities from the cards. I like that the suggestions are easy to implement and don't require much in the way of materials, money, or effort. They're a great gift for any family with a toddler.

These illustrated cards offer 52 fun ways for parents and their toddlers to spend quality time together. Full of interactive, developmental activities that stimulate and enhance a toddler's perception and awareness, this deck will provide hours of entertainment. From low-key reading to active music-making, there's an activity to suit any toddler's mood.
