Conceptis Puzzles : Absolutely Nasty Kakuro Level Four (Absolutely Nasty Series) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Absolutely Nasty Kakuro Level Four (Absolutely Nasty Series):

10 of 10 people found the following review helpful. hardest and best puzzles yetBy R. ToelleMy favorite kakuro books are the Second-degree Black Belt and the Second-degree Brown Belt books which up to now were the best and the hardest Kakuro books. The present book, Absolutely Nasty Kakuro Level Four, is harder than these: I solve better than 9 out of 10 of the (2nd-degree) Brown and Black Belt books, but so far have only been able to solve 2 out of the first 6 puzzles I've tried from this new book. The quality of paper used for this new series is even better than that used for the Brown and Black belt books. Also, the puzzles are even larger (by 1 additional square across, and 2 additional squares down). The spiral binding is also nice. So, altogether, these new books set a new standard of excellence for Kakuro books!

By Carlo Matos This is by far the best Kakuro Series on the market (at least that i have been able to find). I got introduced to kakuro through one of those generic easy medium hard books and instantly liked it. I bought the mensa kakuro book, which turned out to be a great book. Then came the black belt and 2nd degree black belts, also great kakuro books. And now the Absolutely Nasty Kakuro series. I bought level 4 first. Lots of math calculations in order to solve, but not impossible! After i completed level 4 i read someones review that level 3 is challenging as well, so bought it and they were right. It is different than level 4 but by no means easy. Because of a lack of other options on the market i just bought level 4 again. What makes the Mensa, Black Belt, and Absolutely Nasty books so great? one puzzle per page, large print, and the pages are big enough to add notes to them in order to solve the puzzles. If you love Kakuro, try out these books!

By Mark Franklin I agree with the other reviewers, that these are the most challenging I've seen. I've been doing these puzzles for about 35 years, going back to Dell Cross Sums. Level 3 puzzles were fantastic as well. Challenging, but I was able to solve 9 out of 10 level 3 puzzles, each one taking anywhere from 15 minutes to two hours. Level four are tough! so far I'm running about 50/50 on solving them. Highly recommend if you are an avid Kakuro solver! The paper and book are very high quality. Love the spiral bound.
