Kent Cobb : Acrostigrams: 2016 Election Edition before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Acrostigrams: 2016 Election Edition:

A historic election. An eclectic assortment of quotes. And a challenging collection of acrostic puzzles to amuse and enlighten you, even when the candidates ... dont. Throughout history, Presidential campaigns and inaugurations have provided us with some unforgettable quotes: In 1865, Abraham Lincoln spoke "with malice toward none, with charity for all ..." In 1933, Franklin Delano Roosevelt told us that "the only thing we have to fear is fear itself." In 1961, John F. Kennedy implored us to "ask not what your country can do for you ask what you can do for your country." In 2016, Donald J. Trump asks us, "What do you have to lose?" Acrostigrams: 2016 Election Edition captures the flavor of this campaign with 45 acrostic puzzles, based on 45 memorable quotes from the left, from the right, and from the middle.

You may not care for the choices you have for the 45th President of The United States of America, but youre sure to enjoy Acrostigrams. After all, what do you have to lose?
