Knock Knock : Roadtrip Bingo before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Roadtrip Bingo:

I am was pleased on how many bingo sheets it came with 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. So fun! By vicky Such a fun game to keep kids entertained on a long road trip. Bought it as a gift for my friends son and he loved it. He wants to play it every time he is in the car. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Worked great during a long roadtrip to the beach By N. Morris Worked great during a long roadtrip to the beach. My 6 year old could not get enough of the game. There were some things that were tricky to find (like the the skyline when we were miles from nowhere) but no one seemed to mind and we literally spent hours playing this. My 3 year old had fun ripping the squares out but luckily there were still enough sheets to go around. This leads me to why I gave this 4 stars instead of a perfect 5. The cards are basically thick stock paper and each square is cut out in 3 sides. To play bingo you are supposed to fold the square back. Some of the cutouts weren't perfect and I think I accidentally tore some of the squares myself. We also had to carefully separate each sheet apart since they would cling to each other especially along the cutout lines. A sturdier material or thicker card would make this perfect and more reusable. For the price I think it is well worth it to get a set or multiple! If you like retro things then you will absolutely adore the illustrations and the vintage vibe.

Bring back the glory days of childhood games with a rousing round of new-school bingo on your next roadtrip. Our twist on the classic is completely self-contained and portable, with punch-through icons to mark your family's success in bingo (and another peaceful mile of interstate cruising). Call it like you see it: flat tire, motel, police car? Bingo! Set of 12 unique cards, each 6.375 x 8.375 inches. Beats 99 bottles of beer on the wall.
