Dover Publications Inc : Sci-Fi Movie Posters Postcards (Dover Postcards) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Sci-Fi Movie Posters Postcards (Dover Postcards):

27 of 27 people found the following review helpful. order the 24 card set By Lisa Hammond The cards are great. I do prefer this small book postcard format--it's much easier to remove cards for mailing and it's nicer if you want to keep them intact in a book as well. However, you can get these 12 movie posters and another dozen by ordering the Classic Science Fiction Movie Posters: 24 Cards set instead--for the exact same price. The 24 set is glossier. The only downside here is the perforated edges, instead of the smooth edge in the 12 card set. Great posters. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Very niceBy Donald M. MillikenThis is a nice collection of high quality reproductions of posters for some of the most iconic sci-fi and horror movies of all time. I did find that they were slightly too large for the 4x6 frames I bought to put them in, forcing me to trim the sides slightly to get them in, but that's not a complaint so much as a potentially helpful observation for anyone that might be buying these for the same purpose.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I like themBy Robin J. TauberThe cards are thin but the printing is nice

The greatest monsters, villains, and aliens of moviedom live on in this spine-tingling gallery of 12 color postcards. Includes actual poster art for Metropolis (1927), Dracula (1931), The Invisible Man (1933), King Kong (1933), The War of the Worlds (1953), Creature from the Black Lagoon (1954), Godzilla (1956), and others.
