A Good ReadBy CustomerPlaywright Jeff Goode creates a context of Soviet-era influence that pulls you in from the start, and once the plot takes over, you are hooked. A good read.

Synopsis: At a State-run newspaper in Communist Russia, a cynical journalist is asked to defend the Soviet Santa. "And even though your father turned out to be an embarrassment, and a traitor, you must still miss him, sometimes, at the holidays." Cast Size: 2 Males, 2 Females, 2 KGB Agents "Jeff Goode has turned a bit of Russian history into a warm-hearted homage... could make Goode's play a staple offering during many future Christmas seasons."- Back Stage West "Compellingly written... This worthy holiday story unfolds with wit, spirit and a lot of heart."- Toluca Times (Los Angeles) "thoughtful play... delightful plot twists ... scintillating ironies"- LA Weekly "perhaps the most offbeat bit of holiday fare this season" - Roanoke Times
