Duncan Molloy : Zoo Ball: The King of Sports before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Zoo Ball: The King of Sports:

Number of Players: 2-4 Ages: 8+ Playing Time: 10-25 minutes Components: 16 Player counters, deluxe play mat, sticker sheet Zoo Ball, a highly skilled sport of pushing the other team out of the way to slide your scorer into their base! Zoo Ball, where the mightiest rhino and the cleverest rabbit can both play to win! Zoo Ball is officially sanctioned by the Zoological Athletics Commission. Now it's your chance to play! Push all three defenders to clear a path, or just push your scorer to go for goal. Play head-to-head, or in a four team free-for-all. Customise your teams as much as you like. That's it. You're ready for the Zoo Ball! Zoo Ball comes with 16 playing disks, 24 stickers to customise your team, and a deluxe playing mat.

"I really do like this game . . . It's fast and fun with a fun theme. Dice Tower judgement: approved!" - Tom Vasel, The Dice Tower "Yeah it's two in the morning and you have to work in six hours, but you just can't stop playing this damn game." - Charlie Theel, Miniature Market "I definitely recommend this one. We had a fantastic time with it." - Drive Thru "Fans of dexterity style games should enjoy this one a great deal. I would recommend giving it a try. You just might score a winner." - Gaming Bits "If you are looking for a good dexterity game, look no further. This one is raucous, hilarious, and full of fun." - Geeks Under Grace "It's just hands down a ton of fun!" - theMCGuiRE review "A fun little game for kids and adults alike." - DDO Players "A good party game." - Twogun Pixie "If you're looking for a portable dexterity game, I'd recommend checking this one out. It's also an excellent game for kids." - Ronny s
